When selecting a site for their new microbrewery, the founders of Four Corners Brewing Co. wanted to be near the heart of Dallas, situated among unique neighborhoods and other creative businesses.

The brewery found its spot in West Dallas near the foot of the new Margaret Hunt Hill Bridge.

“We knew that zone was right for us,” said George Esquivel, brewery co-founder. “It was a matter of trying to find a place where we could have some energy that could shoot us out of the gate and could also sustain us long-term.”

With the early March opening of the Margaret ...
